The Decision Maker is a quarterly international business journal with a global audience and distribution published in London, United Kingdom. The core readers are decision makers in industries that have an impact on global socioeconomic and political status quo, with areas such as Banking & Finance, Maritime, Foreign Direct Investment (FDI), Real Estate, Energy, Technology, International Relations and Lifestyle covered.

As active supporters of cultural diversity, the publication chose to adapt its logo in order to highlight diversity in leadership. Its unique content comes from top-tier sources like Reuters and high-profile contributors whose views naturally set the benchmark in their fields.
